Card Security Code (CSC) -- This is a 3- or 4-digit number that's typically printed on the back of a credit card, on the right-hand side, but is not part of the credit card number itself. Visa calls this value CVV2, MasterCard calls it CVC2, and American Express calls it CID. This value only appears on the card itself (not on receipts or statements) so it can provide some indication that the physical card is in the possession of the buyer.
